SCULPTING SPACES WITH STRENGTH

Our full-body tiles, measuring 600x1200mm with a thickness of 12mm, offer the perfect combination of strength and elegance for any space. These tiles are designed to provide a seamless, contemporary look, with the larger size minimizing grout lines for a more uniform, polished appearance. The 12mm thickness ensures exceptional durability, making them suitable for both high-traffic areas and residential spaces. Crafted with precision, these tiles offer a sturdy surface that resists wear and tear, while their sleek, modern design complements a variety of interior styles. Whether used for flooring, walls, or other surfaces, they promise to deliver lasting beauty and performance.

VERSATILITY IN EVERY FINISH

Our full-body tiles are available in both matt and glossy finishes, offering versatile design options to suit a variety of interior styles. The matte surface provides a sophisticated, understated look, perfect for creating serene, modern spaces with a touch of elegance. Its subtle texture adds warmth and depth while offering slip-resistance, making it ideal for high-traffic areas. On the other hand, the glossy surface exudes a vibrant, polished shine that reflects light beautifully, adding a luxurious and expansive feel to any room. Both finishes retain the same exceptional durability and strength, ensuring lasting beauty and performance. Whether you prefer the muted refinement of matt or the high-gloss elegance of a polished finish, our tiles promise to elevate the aesthetic and functionality of your space.
